

Test using J-10 and Q-2 for $m=2$ in feature extraction. In this test, we consider the differences between the first and second-order coefficients for the type classification and the maximum first-order coefficients (no differences) for the load classification.